The drop marks for the Back and Forward buttons show up below the Back and Forward buttons, not to the right of them (as I'd expect). Is this a feature or a bug? I'd personally really prefer they show up to the right of the buttons; it keeps the height of the toolbar to a minimum.

But that's only a minor complaint – your skin is great! Thanks for your work!

✿ 0.9.64d 2004-07-06 3 bugs fixed

Install 0.9.64d

Revision 0.9.64d fixes a major Pref Manager regression in 0.9.64c which caused a whole number of issues, like preferences not taking effect until restart, and a completely broken multiline-mode. Middle-clicking a tab now hides it, and a minor bug has been fixed so half-ops get a '%' by their nickname next to the input box. The tabs no longer stretch to fill the available space, but still compress to fit them all in - using a (hopefully) better algorithm. Finally, a completely new set of emoticons have been included, thanks to Lim Chee Aun of phoenity.com.

`npm hint` doesn't work, should be `npx hint`.
